Fun Home: A Family Tragicomic by Alison Bechdel

This is a very dark book. One of the main characters, the father is known to have sex w/boys and men. The father mistreats his family throughout the book and eventually commits suicide; shortly after learning his daughter is a lesbian. This graphic novel has several sexually explicit images such as a girl masturbating, exposed genitalia, women engaged in sexual acts, etc. This book needs to be moved into the adult section and not be displayed in front of the children's section.

What other comments would you like to make?

The Greene Co. Library has this book in the adult biography section, we need to follow suit.
